Fellowships in Research and Science Teaching (FIRST) is the largest and longest continuously running biomedical postdoctoral training program in the US. The program is an historic collaboration between Emory University and the Atlanta University Center: Spelman, Morehouse, Clark Atlanta, and the Morehouse School of Medicine. FIRST is supported by the IRACDA Program of the National Institute of General Medical Sciences.

To learn more about the FIRST Program, visit http://www.biology.emory.edu/first/.